

Playfords Ltd was established in 1925 as an electrical engineering and contractor company working within the commercial and industrial sectors. They have developed into a major contracting organization with offices in Huntingdon, Durham & Dartford, and now serve governmental and blue chip clients throughout the UK. Playfords are committed to upholding their management policies to maintain the highest standards of Safety, Health, Environmental, Quality and Information Security (SHEQIS) practices (including all pertinent requirements of the standards) towards our employees, all interested parties (e.g. their Clients, The Environment Agency, Health and Safety Executive etc.) and others who may be affected by the organizations operations.

It is the intent of the company to maintain and continually improve a management system that is independently verified and certified as compliant to OHSAS 18001, ISO 14001, ISO 9001 and ISO 27001.

To enable the organisation to implement the management system, they will ensure that:

- An effective strategic approach and management structure are in place with clearly defined individual roles and responsibilities.
- Policies and procedures are utilised to ensure the competence of personnel to whom Safety, Health, Environmental, Quality and Information Security responsibilities have been delegated.
- Informed advice on policies and procedures are received by all personnel within the organisation.
- Reasonable resources are adopted to ensure that any risks to the business from Environmental activities, Pollution potential, ILL Health, Safety, Quality and Information Security issues are properly assessed, and either eliminated or controlled.
- Measures are in place to evaluate its effectiveness, performance and continual improvement via internal audits & inspections by a competent person, and external audits by a UKAS approved assessment body.

Playfords are committed to delivering and maintaining services and installations of the highest quality, and will operate in a profitable yet safe manner, minimising the organisations impact on the environment.

They recognise that the foundation to their success is their reputation, and the needs and expectations of employees and interested parties.

It is company policy that their management systems are fully implemented throughout the organisation. Any new employee to the company will be fully inducted into the use of these systems.

Senior management will demonstrate leadership and commitment, set and review objectives which will be communicated to all employees.
